LOCAL NEWS.

HOKA!

The fence-climbers are bearing fruit.

Oh! was it an absurd rumor? Dear! Dear!!

The P. G. Band, at Emma Square this evening.

The Hawaiian National Band plays at the Hawaiian Hotel this evening.

As we go to press, the steamer China from the Orient en route to San Francisco, is reported off Waianae.

It is expected, that about three thousand persons will be present at the Concert to be given by the Hawaiian National Band, this evening.

About twenty five people were seated on the benches in the Hotel grounds last Saturday evening listening to the music by the P. G. Band.

The new Hawaiian Republican flag designed by brother Hatch, will be known in heraldry as "one banana rampant and gold mangoes." All indicative of our tropical fruits and the inclinations of our revolutionists.

Rear-Admiral J. S. Skerrett, accompanied by Captain Barker of the U. S. F. S. Philadelphia, Commander Nelson of the U. S. S. Adams, and Lieutenants Wilson and Fox, called on United States Minister Willis this forenoon.

PETER SELLS' OPINION OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

Mr. Peter Sells, the world renowned circus man, writes as follows to the Columbus, Ohio State Journal:

"The Hawaiian question that has been so prominent before the American people during the past few months, involving the annexation of that territory to the United States, is a matter of more than ordinary importance. A great principle is at stake and no amount of pecuniary advantages can justify the perpetration of a great wrong upon a weak and defenseless power. That the possession of this little group of tropical islands upheaved by some earthquake centuries ago, would be advantageous to the United States is unquestionably true, but can we afford to sacrifice a great principle in order to obtain them? It has been the policy of this government from the time of its establishment down to the present day to keep aloof from entangling alliances and to avoid interference in foreign affairs. That the United States has the right to insist upon the autonomy of the Hawaiian government and has the power to enforce her rights no one can deny. That the geographical location of the islands makes it imperative that no unfriendly power shall take possession of them is equal true. Being in the track of our Australian and China steamers 2100 miles from San Francisco, their importance as a coaling station and port of call is vital to our Pacific commerce. They hold absolutely the key to the mighty Pacific and it would be extremely unfortunate for America should an unfriendly power acquire them. This even in times of peace; but in the event of war with any of the countries of the East or Asia or the colonies or dependencies of either Great Britain, France or Germany, our disadvantages would be much more keenly felt and our dangers multiplied.

"For these reasons alone the United States can consistently insist upon the maintenance of neutrality and autonomy. While these facts cannot be disputed it would be unwise for our government to recognize the commissioners who, after conspiring to overthrow the government of Hawaii, rush off post haste to Washington to enter into a treaty with us for the annexation or control of the Sandwich Islands. The United States should take the lead in restoring order there. We cannot take the risk of precipitating a conflict with the mighty powers of the earth. There are many Chinese residents brought there under the contract system and whose condition is not much better than slaves. What we could do toward correcting this evil would puzzle our wisest legislators. There are other matters of great importance to be handled—foreign relations, school system, financial, judiciary, legislative and executive—all of which would lead us into labyrinths of difficulties. I fear it would be an expensive experiment for the United States to assume control. The Queen, to save bloodshed in the face of an armed and insurrectionary force, stood aside confident that the nations of the world would not suffer the wrong to exist long. At the time I was in Honolulu, less than ten months ago, the Hawaiian army numbered less than 100 souls, fifty of whom formed the imperial band, a magnificent musical organization.

The greetings of welcome we received from the natives as our steamer touched the dock and the garlands of beautiful tropical flowers with which the natives bedecked our passengers as we left, the magnificent music of the imperial band playing the national airs of Hawaii and the United States as we steamed away, showed conclusively that they were a peace-loving, guileless and innocent race. For the United States to aid the insurrectionists, who have set up a provisional government against this weak peaceful people would be beneath the dignity of this mighty nation. It would be cowardly and mean. Behind this whole affair there is a cause that thus far I have failed to see any mention of. It is of one of coin? and not principles. When the late King Kalakaua reigned he entered into some sort of a treaty under which the productions of the islands which consist chiefly of sugar, rice and fruits were admitted into the United States free of duty, in return for which the trade or fully 90 per cent. of it was given to San Francisco. At this time the duty on sugar and other productions such as we received from Honolulu was considerable, and it gave a market for them as advantageous as if they were American. Since the McKinley law went into effect taking the duty off sugar and giving a bounty to American sugar, it has placed Hawaii at a disadvantage and her plantations have grown into weeds, her trade and commerce has languished and her people are indistress. The money power has taken advantage of this period of stagnation to disseminate discord and to blame the government for mismanagement. At the time Kalakaua died he was on his way to Washington to try and effect a reciprocal commercial treaty which would have been of great importance and value not only to Hawaii but to our Pacific coast as well. Our government should try to restore peace and establish a reciprocity treaty which would adjust the difficulties and solve the whole problem, leaving no stain on our fair escutcheon.
